DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

Claims 1, 2, 7-9 and 11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Bianchetti (6095810). Bianchetti shows a housing 1, drill head 14, motor 2 and light source 11 that has a desired wavelength of 450-470 nm, column 2, lines 9-12. The shown structure is inherently capable of functioning to produce tooth luminescence. As to claim 2, see fiber optics 15. As to claim 8, see excavation means 10 and illumination guide means 15. All of the structure being shown, to use for excavating carious material is merely intended use that the shown structure is capable of performing.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bianchetti (6095810) in view of Schuss (4498868). Bianchetti does not show the use of a glass rod. Schuss teaches using a glass rod 45, Fig. 7, to provide light in a dental handpiece. It would be obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify Bianchetti to include the use of a glass rod as shown by Schuss in order to make use of art known ways to provide light in dental handpieces.

Art Unit: 3732

Claim 4, 5 and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bianchetti (6095810). Bianchetti does not show the specific wavelength, however, does show a range 450-470. The specific wavelength used is an obvious matter of choice in the degree of a known parameter to one of ordinary skill in the art.

Claims 6 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bianchetti (6095810) in view of Meller (4642738). Bianchetti does not show a bulb. Meller shows using a bulb 40 to provide light in a dental handpiece. It would be obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify Bianchetti to include the use of a bulb as shown by Meller in order to make use of art known ways to provide light in dental handpieces. Using the bulb to filter light that is emitted is well known in the art of making bulbs.

Claims 13 and 14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Meller (4642738) in view of Lafond (EP 0113152). Meller shows a housing 20, drill head as shown and light source 40 through an opening in the housing as shown. Meller does not show a filter. Lafond shows a filter 60. It would be obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify Meller to include a filter as shown by Lafond because the claimed elements are merely separate elements listed together, and as such, a listing of prior art showing the separate elements is proper and obvious. As to claim 14, the specific filtered wavelength is an obvious matter of choice in the degree of a known parameter to the skilled artisan.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 15-30 are allowed.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed January 10, 2003 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant argues that a vibrating work piece is not a drill head and is not an evacuation means. This argument is disagreed with because no drill is being claimed, only a head. To call the head a "drill" head is merely terminology and/or intended use which is given no patentable weight. Further vibrating work pieces can be used to drill an evacuate. Applicant further argues that there is no motivation to combine Miller and Lafond. This argument is disagreed with because as stated in the rejection, the elements are merely listed together. A list of prior art showing the same claimed structure properly meets a list of different structures in a claim.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
